

ALL AFRICA HOUSE

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS: ALL AFRICA HOUSE FELLOWSHIPS

FOR THE PERIOD 2 September – 2 December 2013

Deadline for Submission of Applications: 15 July 2013

1. Call for Applications

All Africa House (AAH)¹ is offering five fellowships to five young or mid-career² Africa-based academics with a good academic record to come to the University of Cape Town (UCT) and develop their courses and teaching materials and/or write up completed research for publication. The fellowships are tenable for 3 months. Successful applicant(s) will be required to take up the fellowship from 2 September to 2 December 2013. The Fellows will be hosted by All Africa House in collaboration with senior academic members of staff in the different faculties of the University.

2. Objectives of the Fellowship Programme

The Objectives of the programme are to:

- (a) Contribute to the intellectual and broad social development of young academics on the African Continent;
- (b) promote research and capacity building in universities on the Continent;
- (c) provide the Fellow with an opportunity to write and publish, and to benefit from the intellectual dynamism of UCT's Faculties, as well as from the University's relatively extensive library resources;
- (d) provide the Fellow with the opportunity to develop courses and teaching materials and/or writeup research under the eye of a senior academic at UCT;
- (e) facilitate the Fellow's engagement with UCT's intellectual community about his or her work through presentation of seminars at AAH or in his/her host faculty;

¹All Africa House is an academic visitor's residence at the UCT. It is designed to provide self-catering accommodation in a scholarly environment. The intellectual life of AAH includes public and post graduate seminars that are convened by the Warden of the House. The Warden is an academic at the University.

²This means a scholar who has less than 5 years of experience as a university teacher.

- (f) provide the Fellow with opportunities to interact and network with both national and international visiting scholars residing in AAH;
- (g) foster interaction between UCT academics and their counterparts from other African countries, with a view to learning more about each other's educational systems, teaching and research environments; and
- (h) to address two of the many challenges facing teachers and researchers in African universities: the serious problem of resources and capacity to develop courses and teaching material, and the lack of opportunities for academics to write and publish.

3. Purposes of the Programme

The fellowships have been established to enable the Fellow to:

- (a) develop courses and teaching materials; and/or
- (b) write up completed research for publication.

4. Eligibility

Only applications submitted by the following academics at African universities outside of South Africa will be considered:

6. Assessment of Applications

The assessment of applications is made on academic merit by a selection committee, which has discretion to consider other relevant factors. The decision of the selection committee is final.

7. Requirements of the Programme (a-c)

- (a) The Fellow will be required to:
- (i) Present a seminar on any aspect of his/her work in the AAH series of seminars (see note 1) or, with prior arrangement between the academic host and the Warden of All Africa House, in the host Faculty.

 - (iv) Send a letter to the Warden of AAH, confirming his or her return to the home institution at the end of the fellowship. The letter must be signed by the Fellow's Head of Department or Dean of his/her Faculty.

(b) The Role of UCT Faculties:

The Fellowships are offered in collaboration with UCT faculties through senior academics who volunteer to act as hosts to the fellows for the purposes of their academic work. The role of the host is two-fold:

- (i) To enhance the Fellow's work while at UCT by providing him/her with guidance (tips) in writing and publishing or the development of courses and teaching materials, as the case may be. This is not expected to be an onerous supervisory role, but rather a collegial mentoring.
- (ii) To provide the selection committee with a written assessment of the merits of the application of the candidate(s) whose application(s) fall in his/her field(s) of work.

(c) Home Institution

The commitment of the Fellow's home institution is critical to the success of the fellowship programme. These institutions will be invited to participate and commit to the programme with regard to the selection and return of the fellows to their institutions at the end of the fellowship (see paragraph 5(a) above).

8. Funding

The fellowship programme is funded by the University of Cape Town. The fellowship covers the following expenses:

- (a) Single self-catering accommodation in AAH. Breakfast will be provided in the AAH Dining Room;
- (b) medical insurance cover for international visitors;
- (c) subsistence allowance of R296 per day;
- (d) return airfare; and
- (e) printing and photocopying (for fellowship business), and freight upon departure from UCT to the home country at the end of the fellowship.

9. Administration of the Fellowship Programme

AAH offers and administers the All Africa House Fellowships. The Warden is responsible for the administration of the Fellowship Programme.

AAH also accommodates the fellows for the entire duration of the fellowship, and provides a communal computer laboratory to the fellows as to other residents in the House.
