College of Education and External Studies

The Principal, College of Education and External Studies to present the following for the Conferment of the Degree of Doctor of Philosophy

ABUBAKAR Moki Muhammad

This study investigated the relationship between information attributes and strategic planning of secondary school education in Uganda premised on complains raised over the inability to realise educational outputs in the sector despite evidence-based planning. A correlation survey design was employed and data were collected using questionnaire survey and interviews. The study revealed that information upon which strategic planning is based does not meet to a large extent the basic attributes of completeness, reliability, accessibility, timelines and sources of information. A significant relationship between information attributes and strategic planning of secondary school education in Uganda was established with a conclusion that information that lack the required attributes fails strategic planning and vice versa. It was recommended that Government sensitises stakeholders and creates conditions for information to have all the required attributes. The study was self-sponsored and was supervised by Prof. S. J. Owolabi, Dr J.L. Nkata and Dr A.M. Muwagga.

BABIRYE Kakeeto Mary (Ms)

"Stakeholders' Perspectives on the Secondary School History Curriculum towards National Integration in Uganda"

Ms. Mary Babirye Kakeeto conducted a cross-sectional survey and mainly used a quantitative approach and a few qualitative methods for data collection and analysis. The study revealed that there was a mismatch between the educational aims and objectives perceived by curriculum formulators and the educational aims and objectives that were perceived and implemented by the curriculum implementers and evaluators. The study suggested a model for teaching history for national integration which calls for close adherence and harmonization between educational policy and practice. The supervisors for the study were: Dr. Maurice B. Tamale and Dr. James L. Nkata.

LUKWAGO Moses

Mr. Lukwago Moses investigated external supervision and school performance in government secondary schools in Central Uganda. Using questionnaires, interview guide and documentary analysis, he collected data from school head teachers, District Education Officers, inspectors of schools, Ministry of Education and Sports' officials and Directorate of Education Standards' officials. He sought to establish the adequacy of external supervision, the relationship between external supervision and students' and staff discipline, syllabus completion, use of teaching methods, availability of infrastructure and academic performance in government secondary schools in Central Uganda. The study established that external supervision is not adequate because of inadequate resources allocated to it, and there was generally no congruence between external supervision and government secondary schools in Central Uganda. There is need for a revamp in external supervision, adequate funding and equipment of external supervisors with the necessary postmodern skills of supervision. The research project was supervised by Professor J.C.S. Musaaazi and Professor P.K. Baguma.

MUTEZINTARE John Bosco

"Implementation of educational guidance and counseling in Secondary schools in former conflict areas of Rwanda"

Mr. Mutezintare investigated and identified guidance and counseling program implementation challenges in secondary schools. The focused was on students, teachers, parents, curriculum developers, and Ministry of Education. A cross sectional survey design having quantitative and qualitative approaches was employed. The sample size was 7445 respondents and data was collected through the use of questionnaires, interview schedules, observation and documents review and data analyzed using frequencies and qualitative techniques. The study found a number of implementation challenges at the level of teacher, community, Ministry of Education, curriculum developers, students, and parents. Basing on this knowledge, The Rwandan government is training 90 teachers from 90 schools to implement the counseling and career guidance programs. The study was supervised by Prof Peter Baguma and Associate Professor Joseph Oonyu.
