The Development Impact Lab (DIL) invites affiliated researchers to apply for our Spring 2016 DIL Innovate Grant Competition. DIL Innovate grants (up to $55,000 in total costs) are intended to support the piloting or advancement of a technological innovation for international development.

The innovation may be a new technology-driven product or service that responds to a specific development challenge or a measurement tool which improves the capture of development outcomes. Applicants are encouraged to review past DIL Innovate Awards for examples of research funded by DIL.
