

BERGEN SUMMER RESEARCH SCHOOL

GLOBAL CHALLENGES

BERGEN, NORWAY JUNE 8–18, 2020

How can your research contribute to solving global challenges? How do you design, conduct and communicate research to stimulate social change? And how do you create actionable knowledge?

BSRS 2020 explores the interfaces between science, society and politics. Six parallel courses will focus on key global challenges, including climate change, energy transition, sustainable oceans, media & democracy, food systems, and migrant health. Together with crosscutting keynotes and social events, the courses will help 100 PhD candidates to develop skills to create actionable knowledge.

Will we see you in Bergen next summer?
