A WORD FROM THE PRINCIPAL

I have the pleasure to present the annual report of the School of Law (SoL) for the year 2021 which highlights our activities throughout the year. As the world recovers from the effects of the Covid19 pandemic which impeded implementation, the year bore a lot of promise for the School in championing the mission of Makerere University.

The School has realized several developments, among which is the commissioning of the new School of Law Building. The three-storied structure will house Lecture, tutorial and seminar rooms, a library, a moot court, a cafeteria and offices. The project is funded by the Government of Uganda. In addition, SoL held consultative meetings with National Council for Higher Education (NCHE) to finalise the process of becoming a fully-fledged Constituent College of Makerere University as defined under the Universities and Other Tertiary Institutions (Management of Constituent Colleges of Makerere University) Statute, 2012.

Capacity building for our members of staff was realized through attendance of workshops and seminars both at national and international level. Our staff and students were recognized for their work through awards and appointments including: Professor Sylvia Tamale was awarded an Honorary Doctor of Laws by the University of Pretoria, South Africa; Professor Christopher Mbazira, received the 2021 award from Uganda Law Society (ULS) for his distinguished service in the Promotion of Legal Education; and Mr. Grace Waiswa, President - Makerere Law Society (MLS) was elected Secretary General of the Federation of African Law Students (FALAS), an umbrella body for undergraduate Law students in Africa. Our students have participated in moot competitions in-country and globally. Excellence in teaching and learning has continued supported by various research activities and projects undertaken by staff and students.

The School of Law has continued to produce legal professionals from the undergraduate to doctorate levels. Members of staff have published in internationally peer reviewed journals and also formed partnerships with other institutions. This further strengthens the research base of the SoL tackling key research questions for our nation and beyond.

In the human resource arena, staff members have continued undertake further training for award of doctorates which will further strengthen the qualification capacity of our faculty. However, challenges of recruitment delays and retaining staff continue to affect the performance of the SoL.

I would like to thank the Government of Uganda, University Administration and development partners for their support of our activities during 2021. I also extend thanks to administration at the SoL, staff and students for participating in the activities of the School.

INTRODUCTION

The school has well experienced teaching staff who impart quality legal knowledge and skills within an inter-disciplinary framework inspired by legal scholarship, outreach and a commitment to Justice for all, and produce graduates well equipped to deal with new and emerging legal problems...

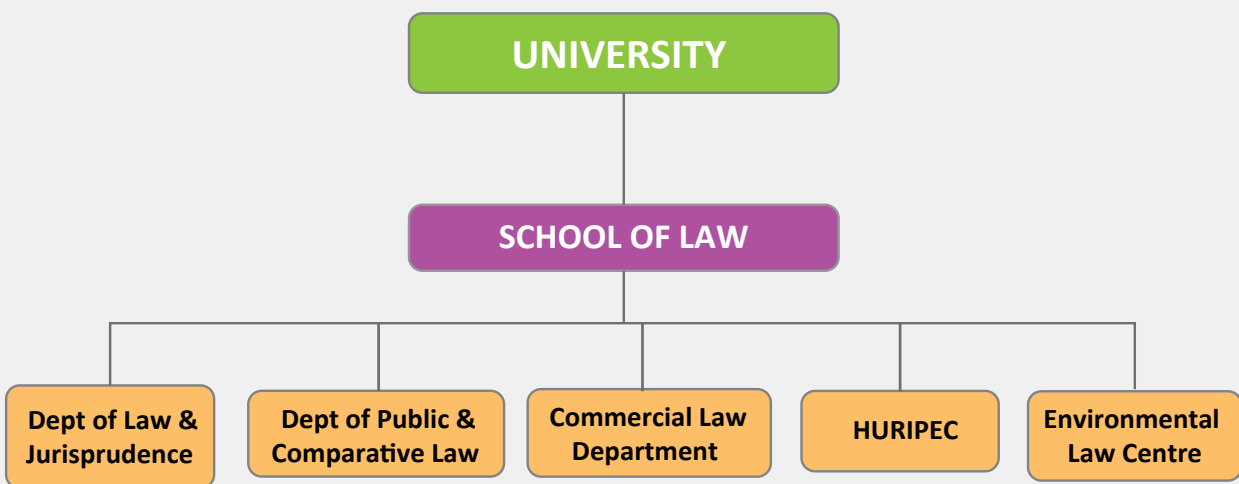

The School of Law (SoL), Makerere University was founded in 1967, initially as a department in the Faculty of Social Science, which later got independence as a faculty in 1971 and with the establishment of Makerere University collegiate system, it became a school. SoL is a trail-blazer in the arena of legal teaching scholarship and practice, providing personnel for traditional law practice, non-governmental service, international diplomacy and academia. The school has well experienced teaching staff who impart quality legal knowledge and skills within an inter-disciplinary framework inspired by legal scholarship, outreach and a commitment to justice for all, and produce graduates well equipped to deal with new and emerging legal problems, who will serve their clients and the community with integrity and excellence. The School also has enhanced services that enable students to apply concepts acquired in class by interfacing with a practical dimension through clinical legal Education, and internship programs as well as the Community Law Programme and Mobile Law Clinic. SoL has five (5) departments including: Human Rights and Peace Centre (HURIPEC), Commercial Law, Public and Comparative Law, Law and Jurisprudence and Environmental Law Centre. The school offers programmes at both undergraduate (Bachelor of Laws) and graduate (Master of Laws and PhD in Law). The school has well established centres for Research, Teaching and Learning including: Public Interest Law Clinic (PILAC), Human Rights and Peace Center (HURIPEC) and Center for Law and Emerging Technologies (CLET), the details of these are presented in the following sections

Ruth graduated at the top of her class with a CGPA of 4.38, Second Class Honors - Upper Division. She has since joined the Law Development Centre (LDC) for her post-graduate diploma in legal practice. Prior to joining Makerere University, Ruth attended Entebbe Christian School for her primary education and Kings' College, Buddo for both her O' and A' level. While at the School of Law, Ruth participated in a number of other academic activities beyond the lecture room. She was an active member of the Public Interest Law Clinic (PILAC) throughout her undergraduate studies and she is a proud alumnus of the CLE Class of 2019. RESEARCH & TEACHING CENTRES

RESEARCH AND TEACHING CENTRES

The Public Interest Law Clinic (PILAC)

The Makerere University School of Law Public Interest Law Clinic was established in January 2012, becoming the first Clinic established at a University in Uganda. PILAC seeks to promote hands-on experiential learning as well as exposing students to 'live' cases of individuals who have been confronted by the law in its varied manifestations. PILAC has established a Clinical Legal Education (CLE) programme, which is hands-on learning programme, intended to equip law students with public interest lawyering skills. The Public Interest Law Clinic seeks to promote a culture of social justice lawyering in Uganda by developing a consciousness amongst law students of the important role public interest lawyering plays in protecting the rights of ordinary Ugandans. To this end, the clinic trains students in strategic use of the law, including the use of national and regional mechanisms, to protect human rights, the public interest and promote social justice, while at the same time providing law students with the requisite legal skills, training and practical experience to become effective legal professionals. The CLE programme aims to train law students to fulfill their civic duties to the public on a long-term basis and contribute to cultivating a new generation of advocates fully equipped and committed to promoting the public interest and social justice as part of their civic duties

The Human Rights and Peace Center (HURIPEC)

HURIPEC is a semi-autonomous department under the School of Law established by Makerere University in 1993, as the first human rights center of its kind in Sub-Saharan Africa. Although several human rights-related subjects were already being taught at the Faculty of Law, HURIPEC was established solely to foster on teaching, research and activism on human rights and peace issues at the University. Since that time, not only has the number of subjects in the area expanded considerably, also the range of activities being pursued. The centre pursues a vision of contributing to the establishment of a human rights conscientized, educated, activist, academic society in Uganda and countries yonder. It seeks and has consistently engaged in events geared at promoting the understanding and respect for human rights, democratic governance and sustainable peace in the East Africa sub-region specifically and Africa generally through teaching, research, policy and advocacy.

The Center for Law and Emerging Technologies (CLET)

CLET was established in 2019 as an initiative for the Department of Law and Jurisprudence. It was set up to provide legal and policy solutions for the responsible adoption of the 4th Industrial Revolution (4IR) technologies. The new and emerging technologies and various scientific advancements are constantly giving rise to new issues in law, governance, and ethics. These issues need to be researched and debated upon in a constructive and informed manner if solutions are to be found that promote the public interest, accountability, legitimacy, social equity, and inclusion. CLET seeks to provide a platform for such research and debate. Since emerging technologies present unique opportunities for Uganda; for example, ensuring transparency, accountability, legitimacy, and social control, which are key for efficient service delivery in the country, there is a need to assess and realign the legal and policy framework to ensure that there are sufficient protections to harness the benefits of these technologies, while mitigating the attendant risks. With funding from the Government of Uganda under the Research and Innovation Fund, CLET is undertaking research about how emerging technologies can enhance public service efficiency and accountability to transform public service delivery. The project seeks to promote high-quality interdisciplinary research, teaching, and engagements to discover approaches through which the law can facilitate the responsible use of emerging technologies to ensure efficient service delivery to the public. The project involved field work through Interviews are being conducted with different stakeholders such as Government agencies, ministries, registration services, financial institutions and private entities working in the area of emerging technologies to establish knowledge, gaps, challenges and opportunities for improvement. This will culminate into the production of a report. The Center is also set to conduct capacity building trainings for academics and public servants on the opportunities that emerging technologies present. In addition to this, it is undertaking career mentor facilitation for law students interested in emerging technologies and has supervised students on different research topics around 4IR technologies for their 4th year research papers.

The Refugee Law Project

The Refugee Law Project is a community outreach project of the School of Law, Makerere University. The project empowers asylum seekers, refugees, deportees, IDPs and hosts communities to enjoy their human rights and lead dignified lives. The project is mandated to 1) Promote the protection, well-being and dignity of forced migrants and their hosts; 2) Empower forced migrants, communities and all associated actors to challenge and combat injustices in policy, law and practice; 3) Influence national and international debate on matters of forced migration, justice and peace and 4) Serve as a resource for forced migrants and relevant actors.

The Business Law Clinic (BLC)

The Business Law Clinic (BLC) established in 2019, started out as a three year Pilot project of the Department of Commercial Law with funding through the Makerere University Research and Innovations Fund (RIF I) under the name 'Transactional Law Clinic' Pilot Project. The overall objective of the Clinic is to enhance the relevance of legal education and practice in addressing the legal needs of indigent persons, low-income earners, and not-for-profit business ventures. The Clinic is founded on the notion that enhancing access to transactional legal services empowers communities and facilitates inclusive and sustainable development for Uganda. The BLC is also designed as an innovation to expand the use of clinical methods in legal education. Through experiential learning law students tackle issues of economic rights and economic development for community organisations, especially those which cannot afford transactional legal services. In 2019-2020, the Clinic enrolled 12 students. In 2021, the Clinical Curriculum was improved and disseminated. It is hoped that after dissemination, it will be adopted as a means of improving the teaching of commercial law subjects in the different Universities teaching law in the country. In 2022, the BLC was awarded funding under RIF III for the period January-June 2022. The BLC has enrolled a second cohort of 14 students.

Externships by School of Law Students: School of Law (SoL) provides services responsive to societal needs through Externships. Externships introduced in 2013 by the SoL through the Public Interest Law Clinic (PILAC) are legal aid clinics, in which students are grouped and placed in various learning environments including partner offices or communities to provide legal support and community literacy. The students also get the opportunity to appreciate real life cases and provide legal advice under the supervision of a Lecturer/Advocate. By so doing students see the relevance or even inadequacy of the law alone on solving of client problems. Third (3rd) year students offering Clinical Legal Education (CLE) elective were placed in four (4) groups in slum communities: Katanga, Kivulu, Kikubamutwe and Kimombasa. These are all communities adjacent to the university and with various legal needs.

2-day Training Workshop on Public Interest Litigation as an Advocacy Tool hosted by NETPIL and UCLF: The Network of Public Interest Lawyers (NETPIL) in conjunction with the Uganda Christian Lawyers Fraternity (UCLF) hosted a 2-day training workshop on Public Interest Litigation (PIL) in the enforcement of Economic Social and Cultural Rights (ESCRs) meant to equip lawyers with the capacity and skill set required to enable them engage in PIL as an advocacy strategy in the enforcement of ESCRs as part of their continuing legal education. The training workshop was also meant to offer an opportunity to lawyers to understand the emerging trends and best practices in the field of PIL in order to offer edge and advantage in this field of legal practice. The workshop was guided by three main objectives: i) To provide a platform for interface among legal practitioners on matters pertaining to litigation in the public interest and the roles that different actors can play in advancing socioeconomic and cultural rights observance in Uganda; ii) To enhance the knowledge and exposure of advocates and judges in the subject of public interest litigation and its importance in the push for the social and economic advancement of society; iii) To devise practical mechanisms, identify strategies and recommend initiatives for creative collaboration among legal practitioners in the effort to establish public interest litigation at the fore of the fight for economic, social and cultural rights in Uganda.

Launch of the MLS Golden Jubilee Celebrations

The Makerere Law Society (MLS) launched their Jubilee celebrations with the rollout of the MLS@50 logo under the theme: "Diversifying professional knowledge and career opportunities for Law Students". A series of events were held throughout the year to celebrate the jubilee. A virtual public lecture to kick-off the MLS Golden Jubilee Celebrations of the Society was held on 10th August 2021 under the theme, 'The Role of the Student in Contemporary Democracy'. The guest of honour was Prof. PLO Lumumba, Lawyer and Teacher from Kenya. Prof. Lumumba urged the Law students to become revolutionaries by conquering themselves, identify problems and participate in the struggle to change their society and humanity without expecting anything in return. He further urged the students to make good use of their time as students to become the much-needed agents of change and warriors of democracy by utilizing the intellectual fire power while their time at University still holds. The Patron of MLS Justice Geoffrey Kiryabwire while giving a background to MLS noted that to a larger extent, the association had retained the original intentions envisioned at the start in 1971. He said the MLS had its main activities as the production of the Makerere Law Society Law Journal, the Moots, the Annual Law dinner, Sports Gala, lectures and symposia. The MLS was established in 1971 as the law students' union at Makerere University. The principal objective of the MLS is to promote the traditions and aspirations of the legal profession among law students and foster social interaction at all levels with an aim to produce holistic lawyers in a responsible society

Moss/Fletcher Distinguished Lecture on the Cape Town Convention and Implications for Secured Transactions Law Reform in Africa: The School of Law in collaboration with South Square and International Insolvency Institutes organized the lecture held on the 10th November 2021. The Moss/Fletcher lecture was established to honour the memory of two eminent insolvency law scholars: Gabriel Moss QC and Ian Fletcher. The 2021 lecture was a discussion of the 2001 UNIDROIT Convention (Cape Town Convention). The 2001 UNIDROIT Convention on International Interests on mobile equipment and its equipment specific protocols is considered one of the most important private commercial law conventions. The protocols cover security interests in aircraft objects, railway rolling stock and space assets. In 2019, the protocol was adopted on matters specific to mining, agricultural and construction equipment which may directly impact the economies of developing countries. Another consequence from the Cape Town convention framework is for a broader outlook towards secured transactions law reforms.

Radio Talk Show: On 21st May 2021, Dr. Ronald Naluwairo (Deputy Principal, SoL) and Mr. Nkuubi James were hosted on the Spectrum radio talk show on Radio One (FM 90.0). They discussed the question of the trial of civilians by military courts in light of the principles of the rule of law and various constitutional guarantees on the administration of justice and the right to a fair trial by an independent, impartial and competent tribunal/Court.

Judicial Independence & Impartiality: which way for Uganda: Dr. Daniel Ruhweza (Lecturer, SoL) organised a workshop on Judicial Independence & Impartiality. Judicial and legal practice in Uganda have in the recent past been engaged in the question of judicial independence and judicial impartiality, with varying schools of thought advanced by different players. Uganda has registered a number of incidents that have provoked debate on the level of judicial independence and impartiality. The 1st March 2007, infamous 'Black Mamba' incident at the High Court in Kampala, is one of such incidents when suspected rebels of the Peoples' Redemption Army (PRA) who had been granted bail at Court, were cordoned off by a band of armed men dressed in black and stopped the release of the suspects in spite of the Court order. Then, on 10th August 2016, a group of vigilantes was mobilized and stormed Makindye Chief Magistrates Court to frustrate attempts to initiate a private prosecution of the then Inspector General of Police, General Kale Kayihura and other seven police officers for alleged acts of torture. Also on record are pronouncements from the Executive and Legislature that have brought into question the authority of the Judiciary on some matters and disregard of decisions made by the courts.
